Men's League of Baptist Church Meets -Talk on Tuberculosis - Ephraim Fontaine Improving at Providence.

The Men's league of the Third Bap-ist church held a business meeting at the home of Rev. Joseph R. Very on fwelfth street Tuesday evening. Plans were discussed for an entertainment and it is possible that Rev. H. B. Ran-kin of Noank may be secured to give a talk, but this was not decided.

A lecture on Tuberculosis has been arranged to be given in the Greeneville grammer school this morning. The speaker will be Dr. Edward J. Brephy, whose two previous talks this winter have had an excellent effect in stirring up public interest. The lecture will probably be given at 10.30 o'clock.

Eli Fontaine returned to his home on Hickory street Wednesday afternoon from Providence, where he visited his son Ephraim at the Rhode Island general hospital. The young man is recovering satisfactorily from the injuries sustained in his fifty-foot fall from the stack at Attleboro, Mass., on Monday, but his two broken ribs will keep him inactive for several weeks. He will probably be permitted to return home within a week.

The body of Joseph Bonin, who was killed by his fall, was brought here late Tuesday afternoon by Undertaker Hourigan. He was a member of Court Sachem, No. 94, F. of A., and of the Holy Name society.

Fred Rivers of Fourteenth street is siting in Brockton, Mass.

JUDGE REED RESERVED DECISION

Case Against Administrator of Timothy Kelly Estate Occupied Entire Day-Case of Main vs. Main Down for

The superior court was occupied the entire day on Wednesday with the trial of the case of the state of Connecticut vs. David S. Gilmour, adm. of the estate of Timothy Kelly, which estate has been in the courts very much during the past two years.

In this suit Bridget Kelly, daughter of James O. Kelly, and sister of Timothy Kelly, brings suit for $100 which she claims is due her from the estate of ther father and of whose will her brother was executor, but had never fully settled the estate. Her father's death occurred many years ago, while his wife died it years ago. Timothy Kelly died in September, 1906. James Kelly's will was made in 1888, by which he left $100 each to Bridget and Daniel Kelly, the income of the estate and the residue to go to Mrs. James Kelly. If Bridget married she was to have a house and lot, After the death of Timothy Kelly, Patrick Bray was appointed administrator of the unsettled estate, and it is said he has found that there is about $1,600 in the estate raw.

It seems that the last legislature passed a law restricting the number of retail licenses to one to each 500 inhabitants, but the law allowed the issuance of druggists' and wholesale licenses indefinitely.

In respect to many considcost $450. In respect to many considerations there is an advantage to the dealer. But there is a restriction in the wholesale law limiting the sale to certain bulk quantities and not allowing intoxicants to be drunk on the premises. But it is a licensed place and whether they do sell below the quantity the law provides for is another story, as Kipling says.

At any rate the New Haven commissioners have been looking askance at the recent applications for wholesale licenses and are getting ready to make a rule to stop issuing more of them, the same as they made a rule a few years ago to stop issuing any more retail licenses.

The commissioners of New London county, who were in session here on Tuesday, said that it is a fact that wholesule licenses can be taken out for $200, but there has been but one new one in the county this year and that is at New London. Under the wholesale license no retail business can be done, and in order to combine the wholesale and retail business a license of $650 has to be paid. The commissioners do not think that advantage has been taken of this wholesale license, and care would be taken in granting these licenses.

The commissioners have granted a liquor license to John Ploupa of Walicense to John Ploupa of
